Cake and Fancy Work Sale.
The cake and fancy work sale planned by the Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church for November 6th has been postponed until the 24th of November. At that time the ladies plan a very large and elaborate affair, and will have a complete assortment of fancy work and cakes for sale. They will also take orders for plum pudding, potato chips, and any other dishes for Thanksgiving.

For Mr. and Mrs. Gibboney.
Rev. J. H. Gibboney and his charming bride were the honor guests of a very beautiful reception last night at the handsome Orr home on West Market street. The ladies of the Guild of Grace Episcopal of which Mr. Gibboney is the rector were the hostesses and their guests were the members of the church. This lovely home had been made even more attractive with the many fall flowers so beautiful just now, and the evening was delightfully informal and pleasant, and greatly enjoyed by those present. The bride wore her exquisite bridal robes, and carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Orr in their duties as hostesses were Mrs. R. J. Famer, Mr. Dave Gray, Mrs. S. N. Gilmer and Mrs. Nardin Webb, while each member of the Guild looked after and entertained the guests.

In the prettily decorated dining room where an elegant two course menu was deftly served the following little ladies waited upon the guests: Misses Virginia Gilmer, Marion Gray, Cassette and Julia Orr and Caroline Walk. Mrs. Ade served coffee in the rear of the hall. It was a very beautiful and charming social event and a pretty compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Gibboney. Mrs. Gibboney has often visited Anderson and will be given a very cordial welcome for her own and for Dr. Gibboney's sake.

Miss Annie Cooley was the charming hostess to a few friends yesterday afternoon at her pretty home on Whitner street, when she entertained in honor of Miss Lucy Carpenter, a pretty visitor from Washington.
In accord with the near approach of the Halloween season the decorations were appropriate to this event and Halloween score cards were used for scoring the games of auction bridge. After several interesting rubbers, the cards were laid aside and Miss Cooley assisted by Mrs. W. J. Muldrow served an elegant salad course with ice.

The guests for the afternoon were Mesdames L. S. Horton, T. L. Cely, Anna Weston, T. F. Howard, John Frank, H. H. Harris, Marshall Orr, S. L. Prince, Misses Lucy Carpenter, Ole McGregor, Bertha Cashin, Louise Gilmer, Louise Humphreys, Grace Spencer, Vina Patrick, Mab Bonham, Janie Hamlin, Lucy Maxwell, Zada Fretwell and Miss Fay McGehee.

Civic Association.
A delightful meeting of the Civic association was held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. A. M. Sharpe at her attractive home on South McDuffie street. The annual business routine was gone through, after which resolutions of sympathy and appreciation were offered on the death of Mr. C. S. Sullivan one of their charter members, and one of their most loyal friends and helpers. The program for the afternoon included a beautiful solo by Mrs. R. C. McDonald, and several selections by Mr. Wilt McCauley on the cello and Mr. Webb von Hasseln on the violin. These two gifted and splendid musicians gave the ladies a rare musical treat that was fully enjoyed by all.
Dr. White was the speaker of the occasion and his address on prison reform was magnificent, and it showed deep thought and careful study.

Mrs. Willio Ortmann has returned home after several days' stay with her sister, Mrs. R. L. Elliot in Greenwood.

Fatal Either Way.
A rather turgid orator noted for his verbosity and heaviness, was once assigned to do some campaigning in a mining camp in the mountains, says The Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph. There was about 50 miners present when he began, but when at the end of a couple of hours he gave no sign of finishing, his listeners one by one dropped away.
Finally, there was only one auditor left, a dilapidated, weary-looking old fellow. Fixing his gaze on him, the orator pulled out a large six-shooter and laid it on the table. The old fellow rose slowly and drawed out:
"Be you going to shoot if I go?"
"You bet I am," replied the speaker. "I'm bound to finish my speech, even if I have to shoot to keep an audience."
The old fellow sighed in a tired manner and edged slowly away, saying as he did so:
"Well, shoot if you want to. I may just as well be shot as talked to death."

Student Waiters at Princeton.
(Princeton Bulletin.)
A new step toward democracy in American colleges has been taken with the opening of Princeton University, student waiters appearing at work in the university dining halls. The number of college boys at work in the commons as head waiters and waiters is about 70 and in return for their services the University will remit the full board bills of these boys. The schedule of work is planned so as not to conflict with the university courses.
The daily routine of the new student waiters is so arranged that each man will serve two meals a day and eat the third meal with his classmates, thus maintaining his identity with his fellows. Some days the third meal will be breakfast, some days lunch and at other times dinner. The work of setting table and cleaning up afterwards will be left in the hands of professional help. From present indications the university is trying to make the work of the waiters as light as possible. In the kitchen various mechanical devices have been installed for dish washing and other needs. L. A. Hillyer, a graduate of Princeton last year, will act as head waiter in charge of the entire staff.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT
Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Alry, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.
My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."
Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sidesache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?
If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.
Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
